HONEY YOU'RE THE WARMEST GAL IN TOWN.

Words & Music by HARRY J. HANCOCK.

1. Have you seen Miss Hannah Brown, She's the warmest Gal in town, The lusty dressed wench that you ever see, With her diamonds dazzling bright, That black gal does look right, warmer than the gal called Der & Deon, She is Black but she is fair, She has black i - ges - ca hair. She caught the dark - y jigs, She plays rac - es and shoots craps. And makes the dark - y jigs kick when she goes out, When Black a does not she ever shun loud to pop. She claps her feet on the floor, When Black a she struts by at night, You would think that she was white, When Black a dead still as a by, Black s high born la - dy, On she goes by you'll hear the dark - y jigs shout, the cor - ner you'll hear the coons all say.

CHORUS.

Honey you sure look right, Black Gal you're out of sight, You're the neat - est night.
