"Mammy Jinny's Jubilee"

Words by
L. WOLFE GILBERT

Music by
LEWIS F. MUIR

Tempo di Marziale

Tell me, brother, tell me what's this all about,
Brand new red handkerchief around Mammy's head.

Ever so happy, what is that they shout?
Ole Mammy Jinny's in town.
You couldn't miss the color, it surely was red.
There she stood with a smile.

...in a new gingham gown...
And all the blessed day long.
There just been near the door all the while.
Receiving guests who appear.

Copyright MCMXIII by F. A. Mille, 122 W. 36th St., New York.
International Copyright Secured.
dancing and song... Now my memory serves me and I'm feeling gay...

same door each year... If you care for dancing and music and song...

Mammy Jinny's eighty-two today.
Put your glad rags on and come a long.

CHORUS
Come on and shake your feet... oh honey, shake your feet...

This is Mammy Jinny's Day,
Just see that

Mammy Jinny's etc. 3
Sweet birthday cake,
It took ten people to bake.

How many, count the candles, there's just eighty-two.
How'd you like to have one, some day, baked for you?
Each time the door bell rings, a present some one brings.

Mammy Jenny's Jubilee.
Come on and see.

Mammy Jenny's etc. 3