Supplement to the Newark Sunday News, June 9th 1901.

A Bow of Blue

Words by Maurice J. Steinberg
Music by Max Dreyfus
A BOW OF BLUE.

Words by Maurice J. Steinberg.

Music by Max Drayfus.

Valse tempo.

1. There's a sweet little maiden I've loved many years, But my love I have never yet told.

2. There's a neat cozy cot that was just built for two, And the charming manner, I've plain, it's a real happy home.

For I am the one and the other is Sue, Who was sweetheart but now is my own.

Copyright 1927 by Strand Inc.
English Copyright and performing rights secured and reserved.
made up my mind that my fate I would know, And I sent her a answer she sent me to that Valentine, Told me plainly her

Valentine, Breathing words of affection and love all alove was true, Not in words, but in mind, for there wasn't a glow, In the simple, old-fashioned rhyme:

line, But a plain ribbon bow of blue.

REFRAIN.
If of me you sometimes think, Send me back my bow of pink; If for me all hope is fled, Send me back my bow of red. You know that I would give my life

Just to claim you for my wife; So, would you say your love is true, Send me back my bow of blue.

Bow of blue. S