What's goin' to happen today?
Just see her struttin' a round!

Where is everybody goin'?
What's that music in the air?

Folks say, it's a scavenger trip.
How my heart keeps thumpin',
See that mule kickin' At that

Feet a-jumpin', I can see smiles everywhere,
Little chick-en, I'm mighty glad I'm not near.

CHORUS

There's Anna Liza in her Sunday gown, Eph is a funny clown, See them there, I declare,

Who's that girl dressed up as a bride, Is that my honey, There by her side?

There must be some mistake, Where is that wedding tune,
I'll eat that wedding cake,
That ain't no honeymoon, That man belongs to me,
Oh, gee, now I can see it's celebrating day in Tennessee.
1.  see, There's Anna see.

"WHEN YOU PLAY IN THE GAME OF LOVE"

The Greatest Song about the Greatest Game in the World

"Our next song!—said Al Plante and Joe Goodwin, authors of 'That's How I Need You!' one of the few really great ballad successes!—must be still greater." This seemed like praising the jilt. But that is exactly what this rising team of writers have done. 'When You Play in the Game of Love' is one ballad in a thousand. An old as the 'Game of Love,' never before has its smiles or sorrows been so sad, so ingeniously, as in this latest ballad-hit. "When You Play in the Game of Love."

"KATHLYN"

Hesitation WALTZ Valse-Boston

The "Movie" Sensation becomes the Waltz Sensation

Are you one of the hundreds of thousands who can hardly wait for next week to come, when at some moving picture theatre you are held spell-bound as Miss Williams unfolds the story of Belle's spectacular $145,000 serial Photodrama—"The Adventures of Kathlyn." We've dedicated a Waltz to Miss Williams. We've named it "Kathlyn." A Waltz to be so named and to be a great Waltz. IT IS. Miss Williams calls it "HER Waltz." As a HESITATION or FALSE BOSTON it has the Rhythm dancers are "hungry" for.

For these few bars. Nothing but the full score can do justice to the complete pieces.
