Open letter to the Negro who is attempting to force himself into University of Miss:---

Boy, you are sure undertaking a giant stride when you try to force yourself into that University where you are hated, and despised and 100% unwanted.

We up North here cannot quite understand why they put up with you at all. It's a wonder you haven't been stoned and horse-whipped, as that is what we hear they do to niggers down south. Apparently they missed you.

All I can say is, you certainly are making a big stinkaroo in more ways than one. If the college hates you that bad, then why in the world do you insist upon forcing yourself upon them?

That's no way to make friends & influence people. Why, they'll only hate you that much worse.
