The good things about life in the South that the North does not hear or read about in papers and magazines.

—By—

LAURENCE C. JONES
Founder and Principal
"The Piney Woods Country Life School"
Piney Woods, Mississippi
Now in its 42nd year

Southern white people continue to implement their words that an institution like "Piney Woods School" must continue to grow and to develop.

Yankee folks do not know the minds and hearts of "surnuff" Southern white folks. The ranting and raving of radical Southern politicians does not truly represent the kindly heart of the Southern white folks.

Mr. Robert D. Sanders, one of the greatest Southern Industrialists, has just given to the Piney Woods School a beautiful, costly, most useful set of books — 54 vol. "Great Books of the Western World."

Mayor Allen C. Thompson of Jackson, Mississippi, has presented us with the Elliott Five Foot Shelf.

Flying over Mississippi, Mr. Carl Chatters, Executive Director of the United States Conference of Mayors, dipped down low for a good look at Piney Woods School. It fascinated him and he wrote Mayor Thompson to ask what school it was. Mayor Thompson described other schools but none of them was the one. Mr. Chatters gave a more complete description whereupon Mayor Thompson realized it was "Piney Woods Country Life School" on Hi-way 49, 22 miles Southeast of Jackson, Mississippi, that Mr. Chatters wanted to identify.

Mr. Chatters then sent the Harvard Classics, which were presented to the writer in the office of Mayor Thompson, Jackson, Mississippi.

Men like Mr. Sanders, Mr. Chatters and Mayor Thompson live the thought—

"I shall pass through this world but once. Any good therefore that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any fellow creature, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

In the Joy of spraying a human orchard,

LAURENCE C. JONES
Founder and Principal
The Piney Woods School
Piney Woods, Mississippi